FOREWORD

To us Cooleemee High School has pointed out new roads of service, new powers of accomplishment, better means of enjoying more the richness of life.

Thus, to give a brief survey of this school year for future reminiscence and to render, in miniature, a portrayal of the service of Cooleemee High School have been our endeavors.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

THE CURTAIN RISES! Our hearts beat with excitement. Our time has come at last. For four years we have worked and waited for this moment. We walk proudly upon the stage and play our part. The curtain falls, the applause dies, and there is silence. The drama of the Class of 1943 is over. Our pleasures, struggles, and our achievements have become history. Only the memory of the play remains. If, however, we wish to roll the curtain of time back, the four years of our high school life are enacted again as vividly as if we turned the pages of a well known book and found our history.

In the fall of 1939 we entered into the realm of high school. We were very much confused and bewildered but we soon became adjusted and got to work with a will. The boys and girls were separated. The boys were sent to Mrs. Bost's room and to Mr. Hendrix. The Home Economics girls went to Mrs. Bohanson's room and the rest to Miss Horn's room.

In a very short time commencement came and it was a great occasion for us. This year we felt we were really getting into the important part of our education.

Now we were no longer freshmen, but sophomores, and we realized that our goal was slowly being reached. During our sophomore year we were still separated, but we worked together in perfect harmony just the same.

Soon, however, commencement came again. This time we became juniors. Jimmie Pierce was elected class president and we began a busy, successful year with plenty of energy. All of our new privileges made us realize that it was worth while working two years to get to be a junior, and at last the longed for event came—the Junior-Senior Banquet. Even the hard work it took to make it a success was fun. We carried away many happy memories which we shall cherish always.

The last act of the drama was drawing near. Next year we would be seniors.

Time passed and once more we were returning to Cooleemee High School. This year it seemed as if we were going home. This year we were impressed by being seniors and tried harder than ever before. With the thoughts of graduation, all of the work that lay before us, the joy and work of it all, we felt different.

Many important things had to be done this year. Jimmie Pierce again became our president. Our Senior Play "Lighthouse Nan" was quite a success and when we boarded the good ship C. H. S. at the Junior-Senior Banquet we were proud of being seniors.

The stage becomes crowded with happy memories that have filled our past years with fun.

At last the time has come and we have reached our goal. Now the end is here. Tears fill our eyes and we are sad, for it is with reluctance that we say good-bye.

The curtain falls, and the drama has ended. The Class of 1943 is now in the past. Next year there will be new actors and a new play, but the memory of the Class of 1943 will lead them on to a much greater success in the drama of life.

Class of 1943.*

CLASS POEM

*Dear classmates, when things go wrong as they sometimes do,
And the road you're trudging seems up hill;
When the funds are low, and the debts are high
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh;
Dear junior, care is pressing you down a bit;
Rest if you may, but never quit.*

*Friends, life is queer with its twists and turns
As every senior now has learned;
And many a failure turns about
When you might have won, if you had only stuck out.
Don't give up, dear classmates, though the pace seems slow—
You may succeed with another blow.*

*Schoolmates, success is failure turned inside out,
The silver tent of the clouds no doubt;
And you never can tell how close you are;
It may be near when it seems afar
So, stick to the fight with your hardest bit.
It's then when things seem worse that you musn't quit.*
